LAST REVISED 2026

Congratulations!

SCHEDULING A NEWBORN SESSION

Congrats! You just made a perfect little human! Let me capture the sweetness of your new little one's existence! The best timing for a newborn session is within the first 14 days when baby is still super sleepy & they still have that newborn squish! They will only be this tiny for a short period of time and you don't want to forget it!

sessions typically last 1-3 hours.
this includes newborn portraits & family + sibling (if desired)

sessions are done in the studio (which means full access to all my props and wraps specifically designed for newborn photos.) lifestyle, in-home sessions may be done upon request

Once you have booked a date I will send you a guide/questionnaire to help prepare for your session

All poses and photos are done with baby's safety first.
I am well educated in the newborn relm and many years of experience.
I look forward to capturing these special memories for you and your newest little family member!

hello there

I LOVE being able to capture your special milestones through the years, however big or small. Newborn photos just happen to be my favorite milestone! I love to capture the first weeks and every milestone beyond! Watching those little babes develop their personalities and grow! It goes by so quickly! JMP has packages that cover it all!

Frequently Asked Questions

How do we set a date?
Newborn photos are best before baby is 2 weeks old, typically i pencil in your due date, and once baby arrives, we can set a date and time to come into the studio!

Where will we take photos?
The studio is always open! Some people opt for lifestyle photos which are done in the comfort of your own home. (A great way to show off baby's nursery!)

How long do newborn sessions take?
Typically 1-3 hours but honestly, you never know, we are on baby's time and some babies settle easier than others. Sometimes it just requires some extra patience.

When and how do we pay?
Payment is due at the time of your session. Cash/check or online payments are accepted. (taxes + fees may apply)

How do we prepare?
No worries! I will send you a prep guide that will help you with all the details. So all you have to do is relax when it's session time!

How do we get our photos?
I have an online gallery site, I will send you the link and password, you can view your online gallery and choose & download your favorite photos directly from your album! They will always be available to you on any internet enabled device.

We just had our photos taken, when should we expect them back?
Typically my turn around time is 1-2weeks.

We had twins/multiples, will it cost extra?
Nope! It may take a little extra time or patience, but no extra charge for those sweet bundles!

Can we take a few family photos with baby?
Of course! family shots are always included and are no extra charge!

Can siblings be included in photos?
Yes! Sibling photos can be added to any package and are no extra charge.

i can't wait!
